Together we can start the movement to Save Energy Now in Indiana!

Purdue University Technical Assistance Program

March 2010

■ Save Energy Now Indiana!

We are pleased to announce that Purdue TAP's Energy Efficiency & Sustainability program has been awarded the Save Energy Now Indiana! grant from the U.S. Department of Energy. This award is due in large part to the support of our proposal and participation in our programs by program partners. With this opportunity, our goal is to provide awareness, training, education, and implementation assistance. More details to be provided!

■ Small Business, Health Care, Higher Education and Non-profit EECBG Grants Now Available

The Indiana Office of Energy Development has recently released the guidelines for a new financial assistance program that encourages small businesses and other organizations to invest in energy efficiency. To see the announcement and download the guidelines, visit: <http://www.in.gov/oed/2585.htm>.

■ Purdue TAP-EES Event Sponsors Needed

Purdue's Energy Efficiency & Sustainability program has plans to conduct 13 Department Of Energy BestPractices™ workshops in 2010. We are looking for partners to help us by sponsoring one or more of the following workshops.

- Fundamentals of Compressed Air Systems
- Fan System Assessment
- Motor Systems Management Workshop
- Process Heating Systems Assessment
- Pump System Assessment
- Steam End User Training

For more information about sponsorship opportunities, contact Monica Cannaley at (317) 275-6622 or mcannaley@purdue.edu.
